

加拿大華人專業人員聯會(安大略省)
The Federation of Chinese Canadian Professionals (Ontario)

2007 FCCP ANNUAL BALL

“Celebrating Asian Heritage Month”

Date: Saturday May 5th, 2007

Sheraton Parkway North Hotel, Richmond Hill, Ontario
(Leslie and Hwy 7)

GUEST OF HONOUR: Dr. VINCENT LAM !

2006 Giller Prize Novelist of “Blood Letting and Miraculous Cures”

Exquisite Gourmet Meal Including An All You Can Eat Dessert Buffet!

Dance to the Music of a Live Band!

Spectacular Live Entertainment!

Free Parking!

And Much, Much, More!!!

Cost: Table of Ten $880 ($88 per person)

(includes dinner, dessert buffet and automatic entry for raffles and prizes!)

Reception 6:00pm, Dinner 7:00pm, Dancing 9:30pm, Conclusion 1:00am

Limited Number of Tickets Available (Only 300) so Reserve Your Tickets Today!!!**

To purchase tickets, speak to your section representative or contact:

Edward Wong (Information Technology): edwardwong@rogers.com

You can also visit our FCCP(Ontario) website for more information:

www.fccpontario.com

2007 FCCP ANNUAL BALL DETAILS

Saturday, May 5th, 2007

Reception – 6:00pm, Dinner – 7:00pm, Dancing – 9:30pm, Conclusion – 1:00am

GUEST OF HONOUR: DR. VINCENT LAM

Dr. Vincent Lam was born in London, Ontario. His family is from the expatriate Chinese community of Vietnam. He studied medicine in Toronto, where he works as an emergency physician and as a writer. Dr. Lam's first collection of short stories, Bloodletting and Miraculous Cures, won the 2006 Giller Prize, and is currently being adapted for television. Dr. Lam's non-fiction writing has appeared in The Globe and Mail, The National Post, The Toronto Star, and Toronto Life Magazine. He is the co-author of The Flu Pandemic and You, a practical Canadian guide to pandemic influenza. His forthcoming novel, Cholon Near Forgotten, tells the tale of a Chinese gambler in 1960's Saigon, and will be published in Canada by Doubleday. Dr. Lam lives with his wife and son in Toronto.

DIRECTIONS TO THE SHERATON PARKWAY NORTH HOTEL 600 HWY 7 EAST (LESLIE AND HWY 7), RICHMOND HILL,

