PUBLIC SEMINAR SERIES

Jointly presented by
Federation of Chinese Canadian Professionals (Ontario) (FCCP) &
Chinese Cultural Centre of Greater Toronto (CCCGT)

Objective: To enhance common knowledge and daily living through seminars and discussions with professionals

Seminar: The police are here. What now?

Hosted by:
Association of Chinese Canadian Lawyers of Ontario
(ACCLO) - A Section of FCCP

About the Seminar: How to handle situations with the police.

Interactions with the police are often difficult and may result in serious consequences. Should you talk to the police after being arrested? What are your rights when the police want to search your property or person? Are there Chinese language services for members of the Chinese Canadian community? Three criminal lawyers along with an immigration and child protection lawyer will provide information on how to effectively deal with police without compromising your legal rights.

Date: Saturday, October 22, 2011

Venue: Chinese Cultural Centre of Greater Toronto
5183 Sheppard Avenue East, Scarborough (For details: www.cccgt.org)
